

The ..... Longenecker Challenge

SUPPORTING THE NEXT GENERATION OF INDUSTRY LEADERS

THE
ROY G. POST
FOUNDATION
A NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION

The Waste Management Symposia (WMS) and the Roy G. Post Foundation (RGPF) continue to successfully connect the best and brightest students with leading companies in the nuclear industry. WMS & the RGPF have been increasing their efforts to interest students in a career in the radwaste and energy industries, not just by providing scholarships, but by continuing to communicate to students throughout the world about our industry's many career opportunities and the environmental challenges we are successfully solving every year.

John and Bonnie Longenecker of Longenecker & Associates – a longtime and generous sponsor of the RGPF - have pledged to contribute $250,000 over the next 10 years to the RGPF Scholarship program. Their vision is to challenge the nuclear leadership interested in giving back to an industry which has been a big part of their lives and to pledge support for the next generation of bright young minds – the next group of leaders in our industry.

We greatly appreciate their support and enthusiasm and have made a commitment to double the contribution to our scholarship program and STEM education. To achieve this, we're seeking individuals and corporations to make long term contributions to the RGPF as John & Bonnie Longenecker have done. We hope to see this effort continue as the next generation leads the industry forward.

> The Post Foundation is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization and your donation may qualify as a tax deduction.

Interested in this opportunity?
Contact Jan Carlin at jcarlin@wmarizona.org.